Craigsville - Goshen 115 kV Partial Rebuild Project

AT DOMINION ENERGY, we are committed to continually reviewing and analyzing our energy infrastructure to provide safe, reliable electricity to our neighbors. You are receiving this postcard because we are currently preparing to rebuild a portion of the single-circuit 115 kV transmission line between our substations in Craigsville (Augusta County, Virginia) and Goshen (Rockbridge County, Virginia).

After nearly a century of service, the current line has reached its end of service life and needs to be replaced. We plan to rebuild the transmission lines and structures in this 11-mile corridor to current reliability standards.

In the coming months, and prior to any construction, our crews and contractors will be in the right of way corridor collecting information as we continue to develop our plans for this important project. You can expect to see crews on foot or in vehicles accessing the right of way, which may include the use of access roads outside the right of way. Construction will begin after necessary permits and approvals are received. Currently, we anticipate construction to begin in July 2023. We will keep you updated as construction activities progress.

In addition, we want to inform you that in the wake of ongoing public health concerns from the spread of the coronavirus, we are mindful of our activities and maintaining our property owner interactions with the appropriate social distancing. The work we do is integral to maintaining grid reliability and our crews will continue to perform work needed to provide reliable energy.

Please know that we are dedicated to working safely and courteously in your community.
