

Edward H. “Ed” Baine
Senior Vice President–Distribution
Power Delivery Group

Edward H. “Ed” Baine is senior vice president–Distribution, Power Delivery Group.

He is responsible for all facets of Dominion Energy’s regulated electric distribution business that provides electricity to about 2.6 million customer accounts in Virginia and northeastern North Carolina.

Baine joined the company in 1995 as an associate engineer and has held numerous engineering, operational, and management positions within the company. In 2006, he was named director–Electric Distribution Operations Centers. He was promoted to vice president–Shared Services, effective July 1, 2009, and was named vice president–Fossil & Hydro Merchant Operations in January 2012. He was named vice president–Power Generation System Operations in July 2013 and senior vice president–Transmission & Customer Service in June 2015. He assumed his current post in February 2016.

Baine is a member of the boards of directors of the Dominion Energy Credit Union, ChamberRVA, Venture Richmond, and the Capital Region Collaborative. He also serves on the board of the Chesterfield Public Education Foundation and is a member of the Executive Advisory Council of the Robins School of Business at the University of Richmond.

In addition, he serves on the Board of Visitors at Virginia Tech and the boards of directors of the Southeastern Electric Exchange, the Virginia Tech Athletic Fund, MEGA Mentors, the American Association of Blacks in Energy, and the Valentine, as well as the EEI National Response and AEIC Power Delivery Executive Committees.

He earned his bachelor’s degree in electrical engineering from Virginia Tech and completed the advanced management program at Duke University’s Fuqua School of Business. He is a registered professional engineer in Virginia.